Effective Teaching Workshop

Nurturing a healthy school environment

The most important aspect of learning is not just transfer of knowledge, but building a deeper understanding of the subject. For the development of the nation, it is important that our students reflect all the aspects of an ideal-learned being. Effective teaching ensures that the surface approach to learning is replaced by a deeper, student-driven approach that analyses, develops, creates and demonstrates understanding.

This workshop will help educators understand students and deal with their needs through multiple intelligence and collaborative teaching.

Why should you attend?

Attend the expert talks to understand the individual differences in a classroom, and implement effective strategies with positive results for every student, build strong student-teacher relationship, and learn methods to develop social intelligence in a school for holistic growth.

This workshop scores 3 microcredits of Rishihood University.
